Course Updates & Actions:

The BHS Curriculum Committee approved the following:

Removal of the following language in the advisory in the COR for HORT 60J: “not open to students with credit in HORT 91B”

Per David Sauter, the HORT Program Director, the numbering and development of the course, Hort 60J: Sketchup for Landscape Designers, was done in error when improving the course from HORT 91B: Sketchup. The two courses are different in several ways:

- Hort 60J is a 3 unit class, 91B is a one unit class
- Hort 91B was a survey class, 60J is an in-depth CADD class
- 91B did not include any assignments or projects, 60J has class projects
- 60J explores many features of the program not covered in 91B, including topography, file resources, ruby scripts, and advanced commands.
- The entire scope and content of 60J is intended for students to learn how to use Sketchup as a professional program, whereas 91B was only to introduce Sketchup as a possible 3D drawing tool.
